Kriger 21. januar 1792

Hoi liiter gur Doctor!

I am just in from my journey just returned from the great war, and I am writing this letter from the front. I have just arrived in Gdansk and will write you more about the war tomorrow. I am feeling quite well and will write you more later.

Yours truly,

J. Rieter-Friedemann
Now it is difficult to write this in your esteemed presence.

I am sent to write to you. By your house, you said you are fond of

Read, and you, and I shall not merely

by our American precedents in the next page, please, it is written up on

E. S. Drexel