

Senmann Hill, July 8th 1842

My dear Sir

Although I intend calling on you & Mrs. Anderson with my wife in the course of the day, yet, as I may still be prevented from doing so by the numerous obstacles of a London season day, I write these lines to thank you for your note which I received <sup>yesterday</sup> late in the evening & to tell you that I shall wait on the Prince to-morrow at the mentioned hour.
Believe me always yours
