Dear Sir.

I will take Wright's, Lee's, Remond's, David's etc. the three first with the Handelian postscript. but not "at least the best" of Harrison for I have it.

I do not know Mr. Lambson at all. He wrote to me when he had a ms. of Handel and remembering some thing of the Rob. Smith's sale I directed him to you. ~~Who~~ Who is this Rob. Smith?

(you.)
Will be kind enough to aid for me? Shall you have time to spare ~~now~~ on Friday next in order to assist at the sale? Give me if you please an answer as soon as possible for if you have no time I must write to some other person. At any rate I beg you to consider my communication as entirely

Confidential and to keep it ~~fast~~ to yourself except your father should be kind enough if you do not go to bid for me.

Your's very truly

Dear Sir,

I will take Wright's, Leis' Demand, David's etc. the three first will be Brandeau's prospectus. See now "at Lantz the first" of Garrison for I have it.

I do not know but I send one as a gift. Be wise to inquire than he had a note of Brandeau and remembering some thing of the Doc. Smith's sale I directed him to you. ~~Who~~ Who is this Doc.
Smith?

Is it known? Not likely told now but I believe of the announcements of Handel one I never heard that Christopher Smith had any son. Does the book of sales give some information about that? ^{Will you be kind enough} to relate ^{to me} the mention of Accep in the catalogue of the sale. Can you judge by which you know of the hand writing of Handel if really Mr Lambert's MS has some pages truly written by Handel?

Give my thanks to your father for the copy of his new publication

Indeed I am sorry he gives me so many.
"No vi. frequen" is certainly one of the most splendid inspirations of Handel.
I have no doubt it will sale. You know I suggest that Handel adapted the music to the words "he was eyes unto the blind"; in his 1st edition called "Redemption".

Since you got the copy of Alfred's form I will keep it.
Is the interesting libretto at the one of 1740?

I will be glad to hear of your little work and progress

Dear Sir your's sincerely
