Tuesday

Dear Mr. Doe,

You value too highly your present social position. I am surprised by your ardor. I am sure, however, that you would be justified in rejoicing. I have reason to believe that the present day is destined to bring considerable change in the social order.

Yours sincerely,

John Doe

February 24, 1838

---

Thursday

Dear Mr. Doe,

I have had just now the pleasure of receiving your letter and I am glad to hear that you are well. I am going by the railroad on a business trip. I will be back in a week or two.

Yours sincerely,

John Doe
To much trouble to send Lucy
15 Albert St Barnsby
And. She will make to form a regular examination of it.

To send enough to send the rest of numbers and materials as for and if and not.